SOP 06 — Client Onboarding & Off-boarding

How clients are welcomed in, served, and how projects are formally closed.

TIER 1 · EMPLOYEE-FACING

Read together with: SOP 01 (Client Work & tier SLAs) and SOP 05 (Filing & Delivery). This document connects directly to both.

1. Client Tiers (Who Gets What)

Tier determines the level of care, the response SLA, and whether the onboarding email offers a call. This classification is set at onboarding.

Tier	Definition	Response SLA	Call Offer?
Tier 1	TVC / big clients & big agencies (e.g., Imperial, Hardee's, McDonald's, VML, BPG). Handled exclusively by Biker.	1 hour (working hours)	Always
Tier 2	Medium clients; project value $5k–$10k .	A few hours (agent confirms urgency first)	Yes
Tier 3	Clients below $5k .	Same automation as Tier 2, less rigid	On request only
Retainer Class A	LTV > $35k or > €4k/month.	High-touch	Always
	Below the Class A thresholds.	Standard	Optional

2. The Onboarding Protocol

- 1 Welcome Email fires on project confirmation, branded and personalised by tier.
- 2 Chat Medium Setup: default the client to Slack. If fully resistant, create a dedicated WhatsApp group as fallback.
- 3 Email as Formal Backup: all documents, deliveries, milestone approvals, legal and compliance items always go via email.

What the Onboarding Email Must Contain

Element	Detail
Warm welcome	Thank the client and confirm the project is locked in.
Single point of contact (auto-populated)	The assigned contact (Account Director, or Biker for Tier 1) is pulled automatically from the CRM / integrated hub — the same record that triggered this onboarding email. The email self-populates the correct person by default; no manual input or email redesign is ever needed.
Call offer (by tier)	For Tier 1, Tier 2, and Retainer Class A clients, the email offers a kickoff call with a scheduling link. Tier 3 / Class B may request one.
"What we need from you"	A short, clear list: brand assets, brand guidelines, logins, and the approvals process — so the project never stalls on missing inputs.
Channel setup	Slack invite as default; WhatsApp group named as fallback.
Basic links	Include core links (portfolio/showreel, scheduling, channel invite) so the client can act immediately.
Timeline note	State that a confirmed delivery date follows scoping (never reveals internal buffers — see SOP 01).

Design standard (non-negotiable): every client email uses a pleasant, on-brand visual aesthetic and a superior, top-tier design. All templates undergo rigorous responsiveness testing across devices to catch any HTML or design breakages before they ever reach a client.

Tier explanation for the client-facing tone: the team uses the tier internally to set care level and SLA. The client simply experiences the appropriate level of attention — Tier 1 / Class A always get a personal call, Tier 2 always offered one, smaller tiers kept efficient.

3. During the Project

RED LINE — recorded calls only. Absolutely zero calls occur with a client without being recorded and centralized. The client protocol is strictly documented in every single case.

4. The Off-boarding Protocol

- 1 Trigger: the team enters the trigger word (e.g., final delivery) in the CRM or Slack channel.
- 2 Off-boarding Email fires automatically, branded to match onboarding.
- 3 Chat Notification: the link is posted in the client's Slack/WhatsApp to confirm the formal email was sent.

What the Off-boarding Email Must Contain

Element	Detail
Final delivery	The final WeTransfer link (per SOP 05), with a note on how long the link stays live.
Review invite	A friendly, formal request for a review / testimonial. The link points to our Google profile when active; if it is not active, default to whichever profile already holds a significant presence . Fiverr is used only if the client was acquired through Fiverr and has an active Fiverr order — in which case this email simply complements that order.
Bespoke voucher	A well-designed, on-brand printable / shareable voucher the client can keep on them, share digitally, or print. Clearly marked one-time use . First-time customers receive a dedicated first-time voucher designed to convert them into repeat clients. It is never auto-issued (see voucher control below).
Referral ask (humanistic)	Phrased warmly — "if we genuinely helped you / if you enjoyed the service, do you know anyone else who would benefit?" — and states a clear, generous reward of up to 25% of total invoices paid , no questions asked, simply for the introduction.

Easy re-booking

A plug-and-play Calendly booking option so the client can instantly book a follow-up call that locks directly into the relevant sales team member's calendar.

5. Tier 1 — Personal Closing Gesture (Mandatory)

Every Tier 1 client receives a direct, personal message from Nabil or Biker upon off-boarding. This is a required "personal attention" closing gesture and is never ignored under any circumstance.

Primary: Nabil or Biker personally reaches out.

Timing: within the hour of the off-boarding email on the off-boarding day — never later.

Fallback: if neither owner is available within that hour, Sama is next in line and makes the contact.

Closing Call / Message Script

"Hi [Client], it's [Nabil/Biker] from Iklipse. It was genuinely amazing working with you — the whole team fell in love with this project, and I wanted to reach out personally to hear your honest thoughts and make absolutely sure you enjoyed the experience. Is there anything else at all we can do for you? Also, you'll have received our off-boarding email — we'd truly appreciate it if you took a moment to leave a review and engage with what's in there. Thank you for trusting us."

Goal: warm, sincere, and human — confirm satisfaction, surface any final needs, then gently point them to the off-boarding email (review and interaction).

Tier-Aware Voucher Logic

★ TIER 1 / CLASS A

Higher-value voucher or a retainer upsell offer — never over-discount a large account.

💰 SMALLER CLIENTS

A simpler standard voucher — enough to incentivize a return without eroding margin.

Voucher control (safeguard): the voucher is not auto-issued. It is a bespoke, on-brand, one-time-use printable/shareable design drawn from management-approved templates with set value bands, so margins stay protected while the client receives something they value enough to keep.

Re-engagement: on off-boarding, the client is logged for a follow-up nudge (e.g., 30/60 days later) via the newsletter/CRM, so a closed project feeds back into the pipeline.

System-driven parameters: the off-boarding trigger word, voucher value bands per tier, WeTransfer link lifetime, and the active review profile (Google or strongest available) will be specified and documented in line with the latest update of the central system.
