

IKLIPSE RESET · STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

SOP 07 — Holiday & Time-Off Requests

How time off is requested, what notice is required, and when it is approved.

TIER 1 · EMPLOYEE-FACING

Two phases apply. The reset operates in a strict probationary window. The rules below differ between Months 1–3 and Months 4–6, after which we settle into the traditional protocol.

1. Months 1–3 — Probationary Reset (Strict)

Holidays during the first 3 months are strictly for medical or non-leisure reasons only. Personal/leisure travel will not be approved during this window.

This is a strict probationary period. The flexibilities already built into the reset — reduced hours, two-day weekends, synced schedules — are considered maxed out until we are through the reset phase. No additional leisure leave is granted on top of them.

Reason	Status (Months 1–3)
Medical	Considered (with documentation)
Genuine emergency / non-leisure necessity	Considered
Personal travel / leisure	Not approved

2. Months 4–6 — Traditional Vacation Protocol

From month 4, we revert to the traditional vacation-request protocol, governed by required notice:

Days Requested	Required Notice	Availability
1 day	1 week notice	Available
2 days	2 weeks notice	Available
3 days	—	Not applicable within Months 1–6

Rule of thumb — no merging. Days off may not be merged with weekends to manufacture a longer break.

3. Approval Is Never Automatic

The company may reject a request even when proper notice is given. Approval always depends on operational need, client demands, and team availability at that time.

How to request: all time-off requests go through the standard ticketing system so they are documented, routed for approval, and reflected on the central calendar.
